BULK MARKETING MAIL & EDDM

Direct Mail printing can be a necessary way to market your business to customers. Print Munki can support you through the entire direct mail printing process.

Reaching your customers with direct mail will help you increase sales in your business, boost exposure, and expand your existing customer base by giving your client base a solid and tangible piece of your company that they can hold in their hands.

We offer a full range of mailing services including data and mail preparation (as per USPS specifications), shipping, EDDM, and all forms of mail handling. We do postcards, flyers, letters, self-mailers, business reply cards, or anything else that you need. No matter the shape or size, high to low quantity, we'll take great care of it for you.
